

Summer School in Sociologies of Education

“Engage with leading scholars in an open laboratory on thinking and researching education and knowledge society in Europe”

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI NAPOLI
FEDERICO II

Summer School outline

SUSEES is a Summer School in Sociologies of Education open to 20 emerging researchers from all across Europe who intend to consolidate their expertise in studying education policies, practices and outcomes from a EU angle, assuming the European dimension as the privileged point of observation.

SUSEES stems from a synergy between EERA Network 28 ‘Sociologies of Education’ and a well established group of educational researchers that focuses its teaching and research agenda on Europeanisation and the challenges of knowledge society for education.

The second edition of SUSEES will be held at the Conference Centre - University of Naples Federico II from 4th to 7th July 2016. Participants will be involved in an innovative and ground breaking 4-days laboratory where leading scholars from the field will discuss how they use theories and methods in their research and writing.

Participants will be provided with insights on the potential of these resources in producing new research questions and will interact with lecturers in a dynamic and cooperative environment, having also the possibility to develop key competences such as academic writing, with a particular focus on drawing in interdisciplinary references to support the growth of analysis in the education field.

EERA
Network 28 –
Sociologies of Education

University
Federico II
Department of Social Sciences

IRPPS -
National Research
Council Italy

University of Strasbourg

École normale supérieure de
Lyon

Local organizers at University Federico II
Roberto Serpieri, Paolo Landri,
Emiliano Grimaldi, Sandra Vatrella

Contact us
University of Naples Federico II - Dr. Emiliano
Grimaldi Telephone: +39 081 2535831
Email: socedu28@gmail.com
Website: <http://www.irpps.cnr.it/socedu/>

SUSEES Faculty

Stephen J. Ball (Institute of Education–UCL, UK)

Xavier Bonal (University of Barcelona, Spain)

Rosi Braidotti (Utrecht University, Netherlands)

Jean-Louis Derouet (ENS-Lyon, France)

Emiliano Grimaldi (University Federico II, Italy)

Helen Gunter (University of Manchester, UK)

Paolo Landri (IRPPS-CNR, Italy)

Martin Lawn (University of Edinburgh, UK)

Eric Mangez (University of Louvain, Belgium)

Eszter Neumann (Kings College London, UK)

Romuald Normand (University of Strasbourg, France)

Jenny Ozga (University of Oxford, UK)

Terri Seddon (Australian Catholic University, Australia)

Roberto Serpieri
(University of Naples Federico II, Italy)

Pat Thomson (University of Nottingham, UK)

How SUSEES works

A multidisciplinary staff and a plural design strategy

An intensive and dialogic learning environment with a strong commitment to innovation

Every year, renowned scholars will be asked to give lectures, presenting the way they use particular theories and approaches. The scope of the lectures will be to provide participants with new insights on the potentials of those theoretical resources in producing new research questions in studying the European dimension of education.

In order to make the lectures interactive, scholars will provide in advance a syllabus via the SUSEES website in order to enable participants to become familiar with the approach they propose.

The lectures will be followed by work sessions:

a) a laboratory for research imagination on European education where participants will be divided in three groups, and asked to elaborate with the help of three tutors from the teaching staff on the approaches presented in the lectures by producing a conceptual map that link theoretical resources with research questions;

b) a feedback session with the lecturers, the academic coordinator and two members of the key staff as discussants.

Participants will also benefit from a capacity-building seminar on 'academic writing', and from the continuous support of experienced mentors.

How to apply

Who can apply

Emerging researchers (PhD students and/or holders) interested in developing their expertise in the study of education in Europe.

How to apply

Send your CV, a letter describing your current main research project, and your motivation in participating to SUSEES to the following email address: socedu28@gmail.com by 20th March 2016. SUSEES committee will select candidates and confirm acceptance by 3rd April 2016. Registration and fee payment is due by 20th April 2016. The fee for the 2016 edition of SUSEES is €150 for participants coming from high-GDP countries and €75 for participants coming from low-GDP countries. For the distinction between high and low GDP countries refer to the EERA website. SUSEES's activities will be held in English.

Travel and accommodation

Participants will cover their own travel costs. Accommodation from 3rd to 6th July 2016, lunches and a social dinner will be covered by the University of Naples Federico II and EERA.

SUSEES 2016 Programme

Summer School in Sociologies of Education

4 July 2016

Morning - Opening session - 11.00

Welcome: Rector and Head of Department of Social Sciences
(University of Napoli Federico II, IT)

SUSEES 2016 Outline
Paolo Landri, Romuald Normand and Roberto Serpieri

Participants presentation

Afternoon – 14.00

Lecture 1

Stephen J. Ball
(Institute of Education, University of London)
Let's rewrite the history of education in Europe (title to be confirmed)

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

Social Program – Social Dinner

5 July 2016

Morning - 9.30

Lecture 2

Sotiria Grek
(University of Edinburgh, UK)
The value of multi- and interdisciplinary approaches for the study of education in Europe

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

Afternoon – 14.00

Lecture 3

Paolo Landri
(IRPPS - National Research Council, Italy)
ANT and the investigation of education policy and practice

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

6 July 2016

Morning – 9.30

Lecture 4

Terri Seddon
(Australian Catholic University, Australia)
Remaking education at the nexus between governing and experience

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

Afternoon – 14.00

Lecture 5

Pat Thomson,
(University of Nottingham, UK)
Discourse(s) of academic writing and publication

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

7 July 2016

Morning – 9.30

Lecture 6

Roberto Serpieri
(University Federico II, Naples)
From ideological apparatuses to governing education dispositif

Romuald Normand
(University of Strasbourg, FR)
A Sociology of Economics in Education: what European perspectives?

Laboratory for research imagination on European education
(Individual work + Tutorship)

Afternoon – 14.00

Closing Session

SUSEES Venue in Napoli

VENUE

Conference Centre -
University of Naples
Federico II

Via Partenope 36 - 80121
- Napoli – Italy

ROOM

Aula Biblioteca del Centro Linguistico di Ateneo
[http://www.centrocongressi.unina.it/sala_partenope.php?
on=3](http://www.centrocongressi.unina.it/sala_partenope.php?on=3)

Important dates

Summer School dates:

July 4th - 7th, 2016

Application deadline:

20th March 2016

Decisions on applications:

3rd April, 2016

Registration due:

20th April, 2016

The 2016 SUSEES MOOC

The 2016 edition of SUSEES will become a MOOC hosted by University of Naples Federico II EMMA platform. For further information, see the EMMA webpage europeanmoocs.eu.

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI NAPOLI
FEDERICO II

Contact us

University of Naples Federico II - Dr. Emiliano Grimaldi
Telephone: +39 081 2535831
Email: socedu28@gmail.com
Website: <http://www.irpps.cnr.it/socedu/>